The Krantz Story

With nearly 100 years of history in the lumber business, Krantz Select Woods has a rich history of providing fine lumber to proud home owners and better home builders throughout the US.

The Krantz story began in the early 1920s, when family patriarch Onezime "Bess" Krantz began selling Cypress from his land along Louisiana's Atchafalaya River. He passed on his love for this beautiful, rich wood to son James, who began milling and selling Cypress in 1970. It was James' son, Jimmy who took the family business online with the launch of Jimmy's Cypress and Krantz Recovered Woods.

Whether you're seeking high grade Cypress lumber offered by Jimmy's Cypress, or the unique beauty and history of Krantz Recovered Woods, you can turn to Krantz for a large selection of high quality woods, years of industry expertise, and second-to-none service. At Krantz Select Woods, passion for beautiful wood is not just business, it's truly a family tradition.

Why Cypress?

Cypress has long been valued for its strength, versatility, and natural beauty. Popular for centuries, builders turn to Cypress time and time again for finer home projects. With a naturally lustrous honey hue and the ability to resist pests, elements, and decay, it's an ideal choice for almost any project. Cypress has always been used for exteriors, but its fine grain and rich tones make it a beautiful choice for interior projects as well.

Wood the way it used to be.

Krantz Recovered Woods offers reclaimed virgin Cypress and Longleaf Pine of exceptional quality. These woods are salvaged from old buildings being deconstructed and underwater logs that were lost while being floated to a sawmill many years ago. They are then hand selected and carefully milled to live again in fine homes and design projects of today. Krantz Recovered Woods chooses only the finest recovered woods and lovingly restores them to bring a distinctive, antique quality look to your next project. With a large selection of products easily accessed online, Krantz Recovered Woods puts these treasures of yesterday at your fingertips.

The Reclaimed Woods Difference

All of our reclaimed Cypress and Longleaf Pine are classified as virgin growth lumber and originate from America's first forests. The dense growing conditions of these ancient forests provided limited nutrients and sunlight, resulting in an incredibly beautiful and long lasting wood. Coveted by woodworkers, builders and craftsman alike, these woods display a fineness of grain, pattern and density instantly recognizable as "antique quality". Wood of this beauty and strength is available today only through recovery and restoration efforts, and Krantz Recovered Woods is passionately committed to making them available to you.

A Greener Choice

Sustainable and green building practices is greater than ever. Homeowners and builders are concerned about energy costs, old growth forests, durability, and long term value. They are looking for ways to ensure that their homes are healthy, safe, beautiful, and efficient. Recovered woods are a beautiful and environmentally sound choice, recycling a previously used or lost resource. Every recovered timber effectively saves a living tree from being cut down.
